

Declaration of Compliance

to the limitations of use of hazardous substances governed by
(EU) 2015/863 amending Annex II to directive 2011/65/EU

C-TEC (Computationics Ltd) hereby declares that we have read and understood the provisions of European Directive 2011/65/EU and amended Annex II (EU) 2015/863 on the Restriction of use of certain Hazardous Substances in electrical and electronic equipment (RoHS) regarding the reduction of the use of hazardous substances in electrical and electronic equipment, as well as the waste disposal of such equipment.

C-TEC (Computationics Ltd) hereby declares that all the products it supplies comply with the provisions of the RoHS Directive on the restrictions of use of certain hazardous substances, that is, that they do not contain the substances listed in Table 1 in a concentration of higher than the maximum limits allowed.

Table 1: Substances banned by the ROHS Directive

Substance	Maximum concentration limits
Lead	0.1% by weight of homogeneous material*	(1g/kg – 1000 ppm)
Mercury	0.1% by weight of homogeneous material*	(1g/kg – 1000 ppm)
Cadmium	0.01% by weight of homogeneous material*	(100mg/kg – 100 ppm)
Hexavalent Chromium	0.1% by weight of homogeneous material*	(1g/kg – 1000 ppm)
PBB (polybrominated biphenyl)	0.1% by weight of homogeneous material*	(1g/kg – 1000 ppm)
PBDE (polybrominated diphenyl ether)	0.1% by weight of homogeneous material*	(1g/kg – 1000 ppm)
DEHP (Bis(2-ethylhexyl) phthalate)	0.1% by weight of homogeneous material*	(1g/kg – 1000 ppm)
BBP (Butyl benzyl phthalate)	0.1% by weight of homogeneous material*	(1g/kg – 1000 ppm)
DBP (Dibutyl phthalate)	0.1% by weight of homogeneous material*	(1g/kg – 1000 ppm)
DIBP (Diisobutyl phthalate)	0.1% by weight of homogeneous material*	(1g/kg – 1000 ppm)

*homogeneous material refers to a unit that cannot mechanically be broken down into multiple separate materials. The following may not be considered homogeneous materials: electronic components, glazed glass, and components or parts that are plated, coated or painted.

Each supply dispatched after the date of issue of this document related to new products or components shall be considered in compliance with the RoHS Directive unless otherwise declared
